Vol. XXXIII. UKIAH, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, MAY 21, 1909. Number 48

SYNOPSIS OF THE AUTOMOBILE LAWS

The following is a letter we received from one of our subscribers last week in regard to the automobile road laws of California.

Republican Press—I was told that a couple of years ago there was some legislature in regard to the running of automobiles, regulating the speed in towns and country, and rights of teams in meeting autos. If such laws were passed would you please print a copy of same in the "Republican Press" for the benefit of your country subscribers.

Respectfully,

AN INTERESTED SUBSCRIBER.

We are always pleased to answer any questions of interest to our subscribers the following is a summary of the statute:

In an act approved March 23, 1907, it provides that no person shall drive a motor vehicle in a territory that is closely built up at a greater speed than one mile in six minutes, or elsewhere in any incorporated city or town at a greater speed than one mile in three minutes. Upon approaching a bridge, sharp curve, or steep descent the driver must have his car under control and operate it at a speed not greater than one mile in fifteen minutes. Upon approaching a person walking in the highway, or riding or driving a horse the person operating the automobile shall give reasonable warning of its approach to insure the safety of such persons or animals. A person operating a motor vehicle shall, on signal by putting up the hand from the person riding, driving or leading a restive horse, bring the car immediately to a stop, and if traveling in the opposite direction remain stationary so long as may be reasonable to allow the horse to pass, and if traveling in the same direction use reasonable caution in passing such horses. Provided that the horse appears badly frightened the person operating the motor car shall cause the motor car to cease running so long as shall be reasonably necessarry to prevent accident and insure safety to others.

In case of accident or injury to person or property on the public highways due to the operation of the motor vehicle, the driver must when requested give his name and address, and if not the owner, give the name and the address of the owner. When a person operating a motor vehicle on a public highway shall meet other vehicles they must turn to the right of the center of the road so as to pass without interference. Any person operating a motor vehicle, shall, on overtaking any stock, livestock, or other vehicle pass to the left thereof, and the rider or driver of horses or other vehicles must turn to the right to give free passage on the left. Any person operating a motor vehicle shall at the intersection of such highways keep to the right of the intersection of the center of such highway when turning to the right and pass to the right of such intersections when turning to the left.

Every motor vehicle, while in use on the public highway, shall be provided with good brakes and also with suitable bell, horn or other signal, and be so constructed as to exhibit, during the period of one hour after sun down to one hour before sunrise, two lamps showing white light visible in the direction which the vehicle is proceeding, showing the registered number, also a red light visible in the rear.

BROTHER ROHDES WHY DO YOU DO IT?

Editor Rhodes of the Times seems to take pleasure in pulling down everybody who ever lived in Mendocino county. Whoever he dislikes he takes pleasure in "writing up," no matter what the facts may be. In his last issue he copies from the San Francisco Examiner an attack on Judge Sturtevant made by a disgruntled attorney who was evidently not allowed to run the court. And to show his fairness Editor Rhodes refrained from publishing the part of the article giving the other side of the story in which it was shown that the attorney had been treated with great leniency and kindness until patience ceased to be a virtue. But such is Editor Rhodes policy. Whenever you have a chance smash both the name and reputation of anyone from Mendocino county. Never mind the facts. Judge Sturtevant's numberless friends in this county, however, know the truth and rejoice that one of the favorite sons of the county is making a great name for himself among the young jurists of the state.

BOXING CONTESTS HELD BY U. A. C.

Through an over sight no mention was made of the boxing contests held under the auspices or the Ukiah athletic club May 10th. The attendance was smaller than first expected on account of the Royal Arch holding a night session on that date, but those who were lucky enough to be there certainly got a run for their money as both bouts went the limit and each round was hotly contested from the tap of the gong. The main event was between Frank George of Kelseyville and Ben Hart of Sacramento and went the limit of ten rounds with George getting the decision. George proved to be a little more classy than the recent fighter from the "county" and was fighting all the time, but could not put his opponent out, but managed to hit him when ever he pleased. The preliminary was between young Donohoe of this city and young Flaherty of San Francisco. Donohoe got the decision at the end of the fifth round. Both boys were trying to land a knock out at all stages, as their optics showed the results of hard fighting the next day. The club has arranged a good card for their next evenings entertainment and all who attend will be guaranteed some good boxing exhibitions.

WILL BE SUBDIVIDED.

Poage & Ford report the sale of the T J Fine ranch south of town to Dr T F Hudson. Dr Hudson will begin subdividing the place at once and put some of that good land on the market. The ranch is about three miles from the court house, making it a very favorable place for a residence of those who do not care to live in town. Mr Fine and family will visit relatives at New Port Beach for several weeks when they will return to Ukiah and locate in town.

REPUBLICAN PRESS SPECIAL EDITION

For some time the matter of issuing a special industrial edition of the Rebublican Press, setting forth in as comprehensive form as possible the manifold resources of Mendocino county, has been under consideration. The plan as outlined was to exploit every phase of the agricultural, industrial, timber, live stock, fruit and other advantages which abound in the county, and place before the outside world the splendid opportunities for homeseekers and investors, and thus induce investigation on the part of a large class who are looking toward California for a field for future investment. The vast amount of labor such a task would entail, and the time required to accomplish results which would fully meet the requirements of such publicity have deterred us from making the attempt, But we now feel the opportune time has arrived and the demands for a most thorough setting forth and exploitation of the advantages of the county, in order that Mendocino may receive the consideration she deserves at the hands of the large number of homeseekers and investors who are rapidly entering our state, is just now. Viewing the matter in this light the publisher of the Republican Press has decided to enter upon the work at once, and in a few weeks issue a large illustrated edition setting forth facts and giving figures to prove that no county in the state offers greater or more promising inducements. Every interest will be fully and fairly treated. The four prominent elements, hops, grapes, lumber and the stock industry, which enter so largely into the commercial interests of the country will receive special attention. In short, we propose to make this edition the most reliable and comprehensive means of publicity ever attempted in this section of the state, and we bespeak the aid and cooperation of every citizen of Mendocino county who believes in adding to its growth and material development.

To make this special edition as nearly perfect as possible the publisher has enlisted the aid of J C Crone, a widely known newspaper man throughout the state. He will enter upon the work at once, and we hope with his assistance to produce a collaboration of tracts which will reflect credit on this portion of the state, and result in much benefit in helping build up and develop the resources of the county.

NEW RAILROAD SURVEY.

Surveyors J E Williams and F L A Gorlinski with a crew of twelve men are making another railroad survey down Eel river. They will begin at Copper mine, where a bridge will be built across the river, and run down the east side through Trinity and Humboldt counties. The west side of the river is full of slides but on the east side there is a rocky foundation so that a good solid roadbed can be obtained.

B B FOX VERY ILL

B B Fox, one of the old residents of the valley, was stricken Wednesday with paralysis. He has been feeling poorly for several days and it is feared that he cannot survive. He is 77 years old and a highly respected citizen.

ANOTHER RANCH TO BE SUBDIVIDED

Weldon & Held report that they are representing parties who have purchased the Leslie Crawford ranch at Largo and it will be platted and sold in ten acres tracts. It is the intention to put 24 of these on the market and with each ten acres of bottom land will be given ten acres of the timber land thus making an ideal twenty acre ranch.

The parties expect to have the land on the market in a couple of weeks. The preliminary surveys have been run by E H Smith and Emmet Donohoe will have charge of the final platting of the tract. This ranch is the old Roeder place and is one of the best ranches in the valley. The valley land has been well cultivated and the ranch has been kept in good shape by Mr Crawford. A portion is set to vineyard. Altogether the man who is looking for a small ranch cannot do better than to get in on this tract.

FAMOUS OUTLAW ASKS PAROLE.

The application of H E Brown for a parole recalls the Mendocino outlaws and their reign of terror in the late '70s. Brown was the last one caught and was tried on March 2, 1880, and sentenced to be hung. He was finally granted a new trial and escaped with a life sentence in San Quentin It is understood that his conduct has been good since his confinement in states prison and now in his declining years he is asking for another trial as a free man.

CASABONNE'S NEW BATH HOUSE.

J B Casabonne's new building near the depot has been completed and he has made an up to date bath house of it. He has put in several first class enamel bath tubs and now has the nicest place in town where a person can go to bathe. All of the bath rooms are large and nicely finished. Mr Cassabonne is to be congratulated on this enterprise as Ukiah has always needed such a place and now we have a good one.

PLEASED WITH UKIAH.

Attorney and Mrs J Stewart Ross of Los Angeles spent several days this week visiting Attorney and Mrs C M Mannon. Both families took an outing Tuesday on Walker valley creek and the gentlemen report a good catch of trout. Attorney Ross is of the firm of Simons, Bradner & Ross, one of the best known firms of attorneys in the south. Both Mr Ross and his wife were well pleased with Mendocino county and particularly Ukiah.

FORMER RESIDENT COAL MAGNATE.

W H Orender is in town this week visiting relatives and renewing old acquaintances after an adsence of nearly ten years. Mr Orender is now located at North Yekima where he owns a fifth interest in large coal mines. He had some fine specimans of coal with him and says that is only a medium grade of what is in the mines.

A LONG DRY SPELL.

Dr McCowen reports the temperature for the week as 84 and 37. He says there has been just a trace of rain in 52 days but that the barometer is going down and that he may be able to do something.

UKIAH WINS FIGHT FOR GRAND AERIE

All credit to R L Hutchison, W D L Held, Jack Warren, Wm Ives and J C Goodfriend. Through their efforts at Santa Cruz the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will convene in this city in May, 1910. This means that for a week Ukiah will be visited by probably 1000 people from all parts of the state and that Ukiah will get more advertising than it has ever received before. In addition to this it also means that several thousand dollars in hard cash that would never have found their way here in the ordinary course of events will be dropped within our city within seven days.

The boys did some hard work as there was a strong fight on to take the next grand aerie to Stockton. The Ukiah boys, however, had the get there qualities and were ably backed by the members of the Royal Arch who had spent such an enjoyable time in Ukiah. The Ukiah sentiment was so strong that the Stockton people quit with the promise that they should get it in 1911 and Ukiah was chosen by acclamation. This means so much to Ukiah that when the boys rerurned they were met with the band and automobiles last night.

POSITION SECURED THROUGH PRESS AD

The Press is still doing business in the want ad column. Last week a notice was inserted by a young lady who desired to do housework. As soon as the paper was on the street inquiries commenced coming in and no less than fifteen were received one coming from Cloverdale and one from Potter valley, which shows the territory covered. The first inquiry was from Mrs J W Preston.

There seems to be a particular demand for young ladies to do houswork and any young lady who wants a position in a respectable family can secure it through the columns of the Press. Your name does not need to appear. Send in your ad and we will answer the enquiries at this office.

WOOL SALE JUNE 8.

Wool sale will be held in this city at Lucas Bros warehouse June 8. Quite a large amount of wool is already stored in the warehosue and more is arriving daily. Rufe Lucas says that .25 cents is being offered now and that the market is strong and that very few sales are being made. He believes that the price will go quite a little higher and is advising the wool men to wait until the sale. Who said that a continuance of Republican prosperity would not help Mendocinoites?

SALE A GRAND SUCCESS.

Col Abe Marks reports that he will continue his sale another week. He says that he has been kept busy by customers who are anxious to secure some of the bargains offered. He is a live merchant and is giving the people of Ukiah what they have long needed—an up-to-date cloak and suit house.

EAGLE WILL SCREAM ON FOURTH OF JULY

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the club rooms of the Palace hotel in this city Wednesday night, to consider the best way of celebrating the coming fourth of July in Ukiah.

Nearly every business house in town was represented and a number of private citizens was in attendance, the rooms not being able to accommodate all who wished to be present.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor T L Carothers, who was chosen chairman of the gathering. Mr Carothers appointed Chas G Halliday, secretary, and it was then decided to place the matter in the hands of a general committee of nine. The committee was appointed as follows: T M Cleland chairman, R L Hutchison, J A Jamison Jr, F. Sandelin, W P Mariner, W H Miller, R R Lucas, C Hofman and P Connolly.

To this committee is left the appointing of all sub-committees, to arrange for the style of a celebration we are to have and to supervise and arrange everything connected with the festivities.

The general committee met after the adjournment of the meeting and got to work. It was decided to have a barbecue in Todd's Grove on Monday, providing the necessary funds can be secured. On Saturday afternoon there will be a road race for automobiles, machines from all over the country being allowed to compete for a substantial prize.

On Sunday, the 4th, there will be a band concert in the afternoon in front of the court house.

A soliciting committee, composed of C E Rich, L Van Dusen, C Hofman, R L Hutchison and T M Cleland was appointed by the general committee and to this number of men depends the success of the celebration.

A road committee was appointed to get the roads in good condition and to make the necessary arrangements for the automobile races, which will be the first to be held by local people in this vicinity. W H Miller, F Sandelin, George Jamison and Robert Duncan will have this part of the work in charge.

The general committee will meet again next Wednesday evening at the Palace hotel, when all other necessary committees will be appointed, and the soliciting committee will report as to the amount of money subscribed.

CAMPERS WERE UNGRATEFUL.

E H Smith returned this week from a business visit to San Francisco. He is representing the Standish-Hickey timber interests in this county and has charge of their timber lands. Messrs Standish and Hickey are preparing to post trespass notices on their lands this year and will make a special effort to prosecute the violaters of the notice. It has been their purpose for several years past to accommodate the public and their notices have invited camping and only asked in return that parties put out their fires and not mutilate timber. The traveling public were so ungrateful as to have caused them considerable loss from fires. Camping will now only be permitted on places designated by signs.

The Mystery of The Yellow Room

"Because he loves her, M. President."

"That is certainly a reason, but"—

"It is the only reason. He was madly in love, and because of that and—other things he was capable of committing any crime."

"Did Mlle. Stangerson know this?"

"Yes, monsieur, but she was ignorant of the fact that the man who was pursuing her was Frederic Larsan; otherwise, of course, he would not have been allowed to be at the chateau. I noticed when he was in her room after the incident in the gallery that he kept himself in the shadow and that he kept his head bent down. He was looking for the lost eyeglasses. Mlle. Stangerson knew Larsan under another name."

"M. Darzac," asked the president, "did Mlle. Stangerson in any way confide in you on this matter? How is it that she has never spoken about it to any one? If you are innocent, she would have wished to spare you the pain of being accused."

"Mlle. Stangerson told me nothing," replied M. Darzac.

"Does what this young man say appear probable to you?" the president asked.

"Mlle. Stangerson has told me nothing," he replied stolidly.

"How do you explain that on the night of the murder of the keeper," the president asked, turning to Rouletabille, "the murderer brought back the papers stolen from M. Stangerson? How do you explain how the murderer gained entrance into Mlle. Stangerson's locked room?"

"The last question is easily answered. A man like Larsan or Ballmeyer could have had made duplicate keys. As to the documents, I think Larsan had not intended to steal them at first. Closely watching mademoiselle with the purpose of preventing her marriage with M. Robert Darzac, he one day followed her and monsieur into the department store. There he got possession of the reticule which she lost or left behind. In that reticule was a key with a brass head. He did not know there was any value attached to the key till the advertisement in the newspapers revealed it. He then wrote to mademoiselle, as the advertisement requested. No doubt he asked for a meeting, making known to her that he was also the person who had for some time pursued her with his love. He received no answer. He went to the postoffice and ascertained that his letter was no longer there. He had already taken complete stock of M. Darzac, and, having decided to go to any lengths to gain Mlle. Stangerson, he had planned that, whatever might happen, M. Darzac, his hated rival, should be the man to be suspected.

"I do not think that Larsan had as yet thought of murdering Mlle. Stangerson; but, whatever he might do, he made sure that M. Darzac should suffer for it. He was very nearly of the same height as M. Darzac and had almost the same sized feet. It would not be difficult to take an impression of M. Darzac's footprints and have similar boots made for himself. Such tricks were mere child's play for Larsan or Ballmeyer.

"Receiving no reply to his letter, he determined, since Mlle. Stangerson would not come to him, that he would go to her. His plan had long been formed. He had made himself master of the plans of the chateau and the pavilion, so that one afternoon while M. and Mlle. Stangerson were out for a walk and while Daddy Jacques was away he entered the latter by the vestibule window. He was alone and, being in no hurry, he began examining the furniture. One of the pieces, resembling a safe, had a very small keyhole. That interested him! He had with him the little key with the brass head and, associating one with the other, he tried the key in the lock. The door opened. He saw nothing but papers. They must be very valuable to have been put away in a safe the key to which he knew to be of so much importance. Perhaps a thought of blackmail occurred to him as a useful possibility in helping him in his designs on Mlle. Stangerson. He quickly made a parcel of the papers and took it to the lavatory in the vestibule. Between the time of his first examination of the pavilion and the night of the murder of the keeper Larsan had had time to find out what those papers contained. He could do nothing with them, and they were rather compromising. That night he took them back to the chateau. Perhaps he hoped that by returning the papers he might obtain some gratitude from Mlle. Stangerson. But whatever may have been his reasons, he took the papers back and so rid himself of an incumbrance."

Rouletabille coughed. It was evident to me that he was embarrassed. He had arrived at a point where he had to keep back his knowledge of Larsan's true motive. The explanation he had given had evidently been unsatisfactory. Rouletabille was quick enough to note the bad impression he had made, for, turning to the president, he said, "And now we come to the explanation of the mystery of the yellow room!"

* * * * * * *

A movement of chairs in the court, with a rustling of dresses and an energetic whispering of "Hush!" showed the curiosity that had been aroused.

"It seems to me," said the president, "that the mystery of the yellow room, M. Rouletabille, is wholly explained by your hypothesis. Frederic Larsan is the explanation. We have merely to substitute him for M. Robert Darzac. Evidently the door of the yellow room was open at the time M. Stangerson was alone and that he allowed the man who was coming out of his daughter's chamber to pass without arresting him—perhaps at her entreaty to avoid all scandal."

"No, M. President," protested the young man. "You forget that, stunned by the attack made on her, Mlle. Stangerson was not in a condition to have made such an appeal. Nor could she have locked and bolted herself in her room. You must also remember that M. Stangerson has sworn that the door was not open."

"That, however, is the only way in which it can be explained. The yellow room was as closely shut as an iron safe. To use your own expression, it was impossible for the murderer to make his escape either naturally or supernaturally. When the room was broken into he was not there! He must, therefore, have escaped."

"That does not follow."

"What do you mean?"

"There was no need for him to escape—if he was not there!"

"Not there!"

"Evidently not. He could not have been there if he were not found there."

"But what about the evidences of his presence?" asked the president.

"That, M. President, is where we have taken hold of the wrong end. From the time Mlle. Standerson shut herself in her room to the time her door was burst open it was impossible for the murderer to escape. He was not found because he was not there during that time."

"But the evidences?"

"They have led us astray. In reasoning on this mystery we must not take them to mean what they apparently mean. Why do we conclude the murderer was there? Because he left his tracks in the room! Good! But may he not have been there before the room was locked? Nay; he must have been there before. Let us look into the matter of these traces and see if they do not point to my conclusion.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. Correct any constipation by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated.

With the Churches

Christian Church Notes—The Sunday school had an attendance of 125 last Sunday. The Loyal Sons and Daughters had a very good lesson, Rev Teel being the instructor. The new motto of the Sunday school is "on time, lesson prepared and an offering." There were good attendances at both the preaching services. The subject for next Sunday monring will be "Backsliding at Heart" and in the evening, "Earth is not our rest." Hereafter there will be a mid-week prayer meeting every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The Endeavor had a very good attendance last Sunday evening. Next Sunday the meeting will be lead by Fodie Heryford.

St John's Methodist Episcopal Church—"Meeting Christ's conditions of salvation" will be the topic next Sunday morning, being the sixth discourse on the general subject "The Essential Doctrines of Christ." Special music at this service will be a duet, "Thy Temples Lord How Fair" by Mr and Miss Thomas who will sing for the first time as part of our morning choir. The subject for the evening service will be "The Lord's Daily Gift." The beautiful solo sung last Sunday evening by Miss Bartlett was greatly appreciated. The Epworth League will be lead Sunday evening by Miss Flossie Banks. You are invited to attend our services.

JAP FISHERMAN MADE SURVEYS.

The work of the U S government of making military maps of the Pacific coast has been resumed after a cessation. The Beacon says that about ten years ago several Japanese were on this coast presumably fishing but they spent most of their time taking photos and making sketches of the warves and landing places. Later a resident of the coast who had become personally acquainted with some of the party met one of them in Japan and after several visits to "tea houses" the Jap dropped a very broad hint as to the real mission of their visit to this coast. They were all under pay of the Japanese government and the fishing industry was a profitable side line.

MENDOCINO CO'S PURCHASE GOES TO ALBION

The 560-acre tract of timber land sold by Jarvis & Nichols last week to The Mendocino Lumber Company has been re-sold to the Albion Lumber Company. The former company held an option on the land to buy for some time, but the latter company needed the timber owing to its location and the transfer was accordingly made.

A new camp has been opened by the Albion company at Clearbrook, about three miles from Melburne where a full complement of men as choppers, peelers, swampers, etc, has been put to work under William McCormick. The new camp was opened last week.

The purchase of this tract of timber by the Albion company will enable the management to keep the various camps in the Melbourne section going for several years.—Mendocino Beacon.

IN YEARS GONE BY.

G W Grant, one of the old time Republicans, was in this office this week and talked over old times. He was one of the orignal owners in the Press and recounted the time in the early days when he and A O Carpenter worked all night on an old Washington hand press over the Redemeyer building getting out extras on election night. He said that his arm ached yet when he thought about it. He was then taken out and shown our press rooms equipped with electric power and modern presses and a folder and immediately decided that the life of a printer was far less strenuous now than in the old days.

FALLING TREE KILLS MAN ON BIRTHDAY

John Zachrison was killed and John Martin injured by a falling tree in the woods near Albion Wednesday. The men thought they were a safe distance from the falling tree but one of the branches caught on another tree and it fell on both men. Zachrison was instantly killed but Martin was released by the aid of a jack-screw aud was found not to be dangerously injured.

The deceased was a native of Sweeden and was 35 years of age, he being killed on his birthday. He leaves a wife and son in Butte county, and has one brother on the coast. Deceased has been working in the Albion woods for two years and was well thought of. The funeral took place at Mendocino Thursday.

BRIGHT MENDOCINO PUPILS.

Three of the students from Mendocino county were fortunate enough to secure the yearly scholorships awarded by the regents of the University of California. They were, Belle Clark of Cahto who was awarded a Phoebe Hearst scholarship, Frank C Clark of Cahto and Edna O'Conner of Fort Bragg were awarded State of California scholarships. The two Clarks are brother and sister. Irene Patchett of Annapolis, Sonoma county, was awarded a Levi Strauss scholorship.

OFFICIAL NOTICE TO START LIGHT HOUSE

The Point Cabrillo light station will commence doing business after the regulation style on Thursday, June 10th. William Baumgartner the keeper, was in town Tuesday and so informed the Beacon. At that time the official notice will have been published 30 days. The light will flash its signals every night in the year and the fog horn will belch forth its warnings to mariners whenever fog settles upon the coast.—Beacon.

VISITORS AT THE TERRACES.

Last Saturday, Mr Purdy, had as visitors an automobile party a number of prominent San Francisco people among others Mr Bliss the architect of the St Francis hotel and other great buildings.

Mr and Mrs Pemberton enjoyed Sunday at The Terraces.

On Monday Prof Campbell, an eminent scientist who presides over the botanical department of the Stanford university was Mr Purdy's guest. Prof Campbell went on to Fort Bragg to see the great redwoods at Big Basin and the rhododendrons on the coast.

Mr Turrell, of Turrell & Miller the photographers for the California Promotion committee is spending several days at The Terraces photographing the garden and scenic features of that beautiful spot for magazine illustration. He is also getting a series of Angora goat pictures at Eight Mile valley. These will be used in the California advertising work.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

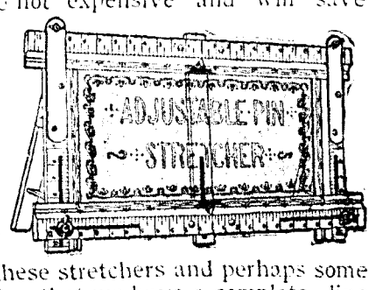
The New Way

The no-piece Curtain Stretcher simplifies the drying of lace curtains. The curtains can be set in the stretcher in a few minutes, the strain is equalized and the curtains dried as perfectly as if they had just come from the shop. The bars are fitted with a number of brass pins which slide easily and automatically adjust themselves to scollops of varying sizes. These stretchers are not expensive and will save your curtains, your time, labor and worry and produce results not attained by any other stretcher on the market. Call and examine one.



This is house cleaning time and everyone is washing curtains, taking up carpets and giving everything about the house a general cleaning. Now is the time you will need one of these stretchers and perhaps some wall paper and new carpets. Remember that we have a complete line of all such goods and we are ready to supply anything you will need in house cleaning at very reasonable prices. Our line is complete and we invite you to call and see our wall paper, carpets, rugs, matting, etc.
